Gov. Hurley Dooms Bartolini to Die

$2800 Bribe Charged to State Aide

Charges that an official of the state Department of Public Utilities was paid $2800 during the past year to "fix" charges of law violation are being investigated by Commissioner Richard Grant and C. H. McCue, the department's legal advisor it was learned today.

The charges have been made by Samuel Becker, president of the Cambridge Transportation Company.

"Becker was charged with working men more than 12 hours at a stretch in violation of state law," Commissioner Grant and Attorney McCue explained.

"He in turn charged that he paid an official of the department $2800 during the past year to fix previous violations of a similar nature.

"A hearing on this bribery charge has been set for Wednesday."

HELD ON CHECK CHARGE

Arrested on warrants charging him with passing five worthless checks in Somerville, Robert Ellis, 31, of Locust street, Dorchester, was held for questioning at Boston police headquarters today.

Kiss No More---Bars Part Them

Love Sentenced—To Concord Reformatory, Paul Gould, 17, goes today . . . sentenced for stealing. Back home, his 16-year-old bride weeps in beaten monotone . . . "He did it all for me." And, sobbing, uncomfortable, she remembers his gay kisses, warm with youth, barred now by walls of stone.

DeValera Gives Kennedy LL.D. From Dublin U.

DOUBLIN, July 7 (AP)—Prime Minister Eamon De Valera today presented Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to Great Britain, with the honorary degree of doctor of laws on behalf of Dublin University, of which De Valera is chancellor.

The presentation was made in a brief ceremony attended by the entire Senate of Ireland, garbed in academic robes.

Later Kennedy visited Ireland's new president, Douglas Hyde.

The ambassador flew here this morning from England for a two-day visit. His son, Joseph and two secretaries accompanied him.

Kennedy also plans to visit the graves of his grandparents, who were born and died in Ireland.

Warships Sent To Holy Land

JERUSALEM, July 7 (AP)—The British government today ordered the cruiser Emerald to Haifa, where 131 persons have been killed or wounded in two days of rioting.

It also was reported the 32,000-ton battleship Repulse, one of the most powerful warships afloat, would arrive at Haifa tomorrow.

Slayer's Plea Is Rejected

Governor Hurley refused today to save Oscar V. Bartolini from the electric chair.

Declining to commute the Quincy handyman's sentence to life imprisonment, the governor held that the chain of circumstantial evidence established by the Commonwealth was sufficiently strong to "induce an abiding belief that the defendant was guilty of the offence with which he was charged."

SLAYER OF WIDOW

That offence was the "merry widow" slaying of Mrs. Grayce Griffin Asquith of Weymouth.

Her dismembered body was found floating in Boston harbor.

Bartolini's execution is scheduled to take place between July 20 and July 30.

Gov. Hurley's refusal to commute the death sentence was announced today in a letter to Defense Counsel George B. Lourie.

EVIDENCE CONCLUSIVE

The governor commented in the letter upon the defense claim that disappearance of John F. Lyons, mysteriously missing friend of the murdered woman, offered sufficient reason for delaying Bartolini's execution.

"While presence of Lyons, if alive, or discovery of his body, if dead, would shed additional light upon the tragedy, I am satisfied that evidence adduced at the trial furnished ample support for the verdict," the governor wrote.

JAPAN BAFFLED China Resists A Year

By WILLIAM HILLMAN

Copyright, 1938, by International News Service

LONDON, July 7.—Winner of many victories, but unable yet to inflict a single decisive defeat, Japan today ended the first year of its effort to break the back of gargantuan China.

But the back of China remains unbroken, albeit bent under wholesale carnage.

In its staggering cost in human lives—estimated at more than 1,000,000—the Chinese-Japanese struggle surpasses any war in modern times, save only the world holocaust of 1914-18.

WORLD WORRIES

The explosive potentialities of the conflict engage the worried attention of statesmen everywhere. Uppermost in their minds are two questions:

How much longer will the conflict last?

How much deeper will Soviet Russia and other powers, with vital interests in the western Pacific, become involved?

That the war is likely to reach at least a second birthday is the general consensus of military and diplomatic experts here.

POWERS EMBROILED

The Soviet Union, chief rival of Japan for hegemony over the Far East, has been shipping increasing quantities of arms, planes and munitions to Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek's defense armies, and Japan increasingly resents this.

The other powers, too, have become embroiled with Japan in diplomatic conflict over a long series of international incidents.

Japan now declares she will be satisfied with nothing short of complete destruction of the Chiang Kai-Shek regime. And China retorts she will never compromise.

Al Smith Fights Gambling Ban

ALBANY, July 7 (INS).—New York's constitutional prohibition against gambling is as "ridiculous" as was the 18th Amendment, former Governor Alfred E. Smith declared today.

Entering the fight to efface the gambling ban, Smith told the constitutional convention gambling was going on all over the state.

"Why, I even bet on a horse when I was governor," he said. "My only regret is that the horse, given to me as a sure thing by a state official, chased all the other horses home."

Smith urged approval of the Hirschberg amendment, which would remove the gambling prohibition entirely and leave to the Legislature to say what actually constitutes gambling.

Warships Off To Palestine

JERUSALEM, July 7 (INS).—Military precautions were redoubled throughout Palestine today as the death toll in 24 hours of Arab-Jew strife mounted towards 30, with the wounded numbering 100.

The British cruiser Emerald, en route from Malta to the East Indies, was ordered to proceed to Haifa. The 32,000-ton battleship Resolute is also reported on the way there.

More trouble was feared in Jerusalem and Haifa, where Arabs closed their shops and staged protest demonstrations.

The British government is contemplating establishment of full martial law throughout Palestine as the result of the disorders.

Pedestrians and occupants of a Jewish motor-bus at Haifa were stoned today, and many injured.

Among the Jews who lost their lives was Tuvia Dounia, brother-in-law of Dr. Chaim Weizmann, recognized in many countries as the world's foremost Zionist and often called the "father of modern Palestine."

Many of the wounded were in serious condition, and many were reported dying.

One Jew was killed today and seven were wounded when a group of laborers was fired upon by unidentified assailants at Haifa.

A bomb explosion severely injured six Arabs in the old section of Jerusalem. Two of the wounded were women.

Planted by unknown terrorists, a bomb exploded with deadly and shattering effect outside Haifa's central police station.

MOBS OPEN ATTACK

Over the bodies of those killed in the explosion and the prostrate forms of the injured, Arab mobs began an attack on Jews, according to reports reaching Jerusalem.

Unable to quell the riots with their clubs and in peril of being themselves attacked, the British police opened fire on the battling crowds, eye-witnesses related.

Dounia, a 55-year-old civil engineer, was driving down Haifa's main street when he was caught in the line of police fire and shot dead.

Since May 1936, 72 Jews and Arabs have been killed in racial fights in the Holy Land which both Arabs and Jews regard as their national home.

The newest wave of violence grew from the hanging of a Jew a week ago.

RACE RIOTING FLARES—Scenes such as these were reenacted in the Holy Land as one of the bloodiest disorders left 18 Arabs and five Jews dead in Haifa. Seventy-nine others were wounded seriously before police could restore order.

Workers Plan $500,000 Homes

PITTSFIELD, July 7 (AP).—In the largest building development of its kind ever planned here, 60 employees of the General Electric Company have purchased 200 acres of land upon which they said each would build a home, the work to be completed in the fall.

The employees, who have banded together as the Alamo Club, named after the famed defense of Fort Alamo in the war for Texas independence from Mexico in 1836, said the land and buildings would be valued at about $500,000.

The club members said all claims would be excavated at once, the floor plans would be the same, but the exteriors would be of three distinct types.

Martin Sees G.O.P. Gain in Pennsy
PHILADELPHIA, July 7 (AP).—Representative Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, predicted here today that the Pennsylvania delegation in the national House would be increased by 15 members in the fall election.

Death Rings The Doorbell

A Roxbury husband, who opened the door of his home yesterday to catch the body of his wife as she fell forward dead, today is sorrowfully making plans for her funeral.

Vito Spranger of Worcester place answered the doorbell only to have his wife's body placed in his arms. She had been walking with a relative and had collapsed only a few steps from her home. The relative carried her to the door and rang the bell. Spranger's doctor said death was due to a heart attack.

Rear End Motor Patented by Ford
WASHINGTON, July 7 (INS).—A new type of automobile, having both transmission and engine mounted in the rear, has been invented by Henry Ford, the official gazette of the U. S. patent office disclosed today.

Ford was granted a patent on the new machine, which makes seven claims for new type or mechanical operations.

UNITED FRONT Of 3 Creeds Aid for Exiles

EVIAN - LES - BAINS, France, July 7.—Jewish, Catholic and Protestant refugee representatives formed a united front today to obtain immediate international aid for what they described as "the oppressed minorities of the world."

They agreed at a meeting to name a common spokesman and stand unified on a program of petitions to the inter-governmental committee on refugees.

Myron C. Taylor, head of the United States delegation, today accepted the presidency of the 32-power inter-government committee.

Representatives of the three religious groups agreed on four demands to be made on the committee.

That the committee should consider the plight of refugees throughout the world as well as those from Germany, including Austria.

That any plans for the immigration and establishment of refugees should include those who already have left Germany as well as those still there.

That negotiations should be started with Germany to obtain permission for refugees to take goods and money out with them.

That liberty of immigration to Palestine should be re-established.

Dr. Heinrich Neumann, famed Vienna specialist, brought an informal message from German authorities to the committee, asking the evacuation of 40,000 Austrian political victims by August 1.

Belgium, Canada and Austria refused to open their doors to the refugees.

Of the nations whose views were expressed only Argentina maintained a reserved attitude, which was interpreted as meaning she might be willing to harbor some of the refugees.

Love Song Won Her, Says Girl

ATHOL, July 7—Herbert D. Boutall, 63, machinist-farmer, sang and played his way into the heart of 16-year-old Anna May, she revealed today as she happily completed plans for her marriage on Monday.

LOVE-LORN SWAIN, Herbert D. Boutall, 63-year-old widower, and his bride-to-be, Anna May, just 16, laugh at protests of a couple of "old maids" as they plan to wed Monday in Athol.

Bride Sobs as Mate, 17, Is Jailed for a Year

A fearful bride of 16, soon to become a mother, saw her 17-year-old husband, Paul Gould, Lafayette Park, Roxbury, sentenced to an indefinite term in Concord reformatory by Judge Albert F. Hayden in Roxbury court today.

Young Gould, arrested after a chase June 29, confessed, the court was told, to numerous purse snatchings, minor breaks and robberies during the two months previous. Weeping, his bride sobbed:

"Anything he did, he did for me. He tried to get a WPA job, but couldn't. We had to have money."

The girl's mother was with her in court. Young Gould and the girl were married in South Royalton, Vt., the bride's home town, on February 12.

Also sentenced by Judge Hayden to a total of a year in the house of correction, was Frank Galvin, Mall street, Roxbury, who was charged by police of having aided young Gould in disposing of stolen goods.

"I love to hear him sing and he plays the piano beautifully," the pretty high school junior declared in laughing off a 47-year difference in their ages.

"Young boys are so foolish," she added. "Herbert is really young, too. He has young tastes. We both love music, and it's fun to sit down at the piano and sing. He likes to go out, also, and we always have good times together."

RETIRED TWO YEARS

Boutall, who retired to a seven-room bungalow two years ago, likewise scoffed over objections to the coming marriage.

"The only ones who are having anything to say are a few old maids," he said.

"A man's as old as he feels. I don't feel a day over 40. Why, just the other night some of my young friends dropped in to give me a party. I drank them all under the table."

"My father lived to be 90, and my grandfather was 99 when he died. I've got a good many years yet."

APPROVE BRIDAL

Miss May is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin May of Turnpike road, Petersham.

Her parents have approved her engagement to Boutall and they'll attend the wedding in St. John's Episcopal Church here.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Percival M. Wood.

The bride's blonde sister, Jane May 18, will act as her bridesmaid. Matron of honor will be another sister, Mrs. Dorothy Abel of Ardmore, Pa.

Dexter Gordon May, brother of the bride, will act as best man. Anna said today she would not return to Athol high school next September.

"I think I'll find being a wife and housekeeper a full-time job," she smiled.

COLLEGE HEAD DIES

ATLANTA, July 7 (AP)—Dr. R. E. Blackwell, 84, president of Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Va., and a former president of the Southern Association of Colleges died in a hospital here today.

HEIRESS IS SUED AS 'LOVE PIRATE'

SALEM, July 7—A $15,000 suit for alienation of affections was filed in probate court here today against Alice G. Mulholland, 36-year-olds Peabody heiress, reported missing last September 1 and now "of parts unknown."

The suit was filed by Mrs. Mary Devaney of Peabody, through her attorney, John J. Foley. Also named in the suit were Michael J. Reardon, George F. Curtis and Harry E. Trask.

The men were trustees under the will of the late Alexander B. Clark, Peabody millionaire and grandfather of Miss Mulholland, who died in 1912 and whose will has been contested in the courts.

Mrs. Devaney charged the defendant won her husband away from her by and "contrived to wrongfully deprive her of the affection of her husband, wrongfully kept company with him and carried on illicit relations with him."

Miss Mulholland, once a WPA supervisor, disappeared from home shortly before her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mulholland, died last September. After an eight-month search, she sent a letter to her home saying she was working in New York and the hunt was ended.

The suit today listed her address "unknown."

In 1937 the five grandchildren of Alexander Mulholland, including Alice, tried to break Mulholland's will to deprive Mrs. Elizabeth Mulholland of one-third of a $375,000 estate.

Borah Forced To Take Rest

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—Senator William E. Borah, 73-year-old dean of the Senate, was in bed today under a physician's orders that he rest after a breakdown because of overwork.

Cape Awaits Chaplin Wife

When Paulette Goddard, film star, comes to Cape Cod soon to appear at the Cape Playhouse in Dennis she will assume her heretofore secretive title of "Mrs. Charles Chaplin" right out in the open.

This became known today with word from Pebble Beach, Cal., that the famous comedian's wife had discarded her habit of keeping people guessing as to her status.

Paulette is leaving Pebble Beach "the latter part of the week to visit one of two places" before coming to Cape Cod.

Whether Reno, Nev., is one of the "places," she did not say, although when she arrived at Pebble Beach ten days ago she said she was planning to go to Reno to "start a ski club."

Rose Aids 'Red Ballot' Fight

James P. Rose, of West Roxbury, former State commander of the American Legion, and member of the special legislative commission to investigate the activities of Communistic, Fascist, Nazi, and other alleged subversive organizations, stated today that he favors passage of legislation by the Massachusetts legislature, to prevent the Communist party from participating in elections.

"I believe Massachusetts legislators should follow the lead of New York legislators by passing legislation to bar the Communist party from taking part in elections in this state," he said. "I would bar the Communist party on the ground that its ultimate object is to make the United States a component party of a world movement."

MENACE TO NATION

"Leaders of the Communist party told the commission of which I am a member, that a man does not have to be a citizen of the United States to join the organization. Earl Browder, the Communist leader in the United States did the work of the party in China before coming to the United States."

"Browder and other Communist leaders have stated that members of the party owe no duty to the United States as distinguished from the higher duty to Soviet Russia and the Third International and that is repugnant to every real American."

"By their own writings and oral statements Communist leaders have declared they owe a higher duty to a foreign, alien government, and that is repugnant and contradictory to citizens of the United States."

"I hope the Massachusetts legislature passes a law at the next session which will purge the ballot in the Bay State of the Communist party."

Attorney Leo J. Halloran, another member of the special commission on "Ism," said:

"I am heartily in accord with the plan of New York legislators to pass legislation to purge the ballot of the Communist party."

"I believe the same thing should be done in Massachusetts. I agree with Senator David I. Walsh that the United States is overrun with Communists who are undermining American government and that there are a large number of such nests in Massachusetts that should be wiped out."

French Goes To Survey $20 Factory Job

PROVIDENCE, July 7 (AP)—Francis G. French, father-in-law of John Jacob Astor, 2nd, boarded a bus here for Springfield, Mass., today to look into an offer of a job at $20 a week in a toothpaste factory.

Carrying a well-packed brief case, the tall, rather nervous father of the former "Tucky" French admitted that a number of offers of jobs were a bit confusing but that he wanted to examine them closely before accepting anything.

"You see, my problem is to get back home to Newport in case these jobs don't work out. If the jobs don't prove any good, where will I get the money to move all my and my wife's things back home?" he asked.

WANTS CLUB OFFER

He revealed that while in Springfield he expected to hear from the New York night club proprietor who has offered him a job at $30 a week as assistant host and greeter in the club which numbers his son-in-law among its patrons.

He hinted that the night club manager would have to wire money for the trip to New York before he, French, could make any move.

"TUCKY" MAKES LOANS

French, who was turned down as a relief applicant a week ago in Newport because he had relatives to support him, said that his daughter, "Tucky," had advanced him a number of loans, which he would have to pay back.

He indicated, however, that the time had come when he had to get a job, and he didn't have much fear about doing whatever he got well because he was still "strong and healthy."

Roosevelt Off For Deal 'Wars'

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Roosevelt sets out tonight on a zig-zag, cross-country journey to the Pacific Coast just as the off-year campaigns in many states are beginning to warm up.

His itinerary, from Washington to Southern California, has been so arranged as to carry him through a number of states where the political cannonading is the loudest.

Officially, no reason has been advanced for President Roosevelt's trip, except that he has an insatiable desire to see the country. But quite unofficially, the President sails forth tonight to extend what political help he can to his friends, those who have gone down the line for the New Deal.

FIRST STOP IS OHIO

This is a political year. The entire House of Representatives and a third of the Senate are up for renomination and re-election—most of them Democrats. And this is a political trip, however much the term may be decided in White House circles.

The presidential special promises to become a political caravan, with Democratic candidates hopping off and on the train all the way across the country.

One thing is certain—Mr. Roosevelt is going to see and to talk to a great many Democrats on this mid-summer trek from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

His first stop will be Marietta, O., which is perhaps the most non-political visit of his trip. Marietta tomorrow celebrates the sesqui-centennial of the opening up of the great West.

VISITS TO STATES

The chairman of the Centennial Commission is ex-Governor George White, who 18 years ago managed the national campaign of the Democratic ticket composed of James M. Cox and Franklin Delano Roosevelt. This year George White is a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination. Opposed to him is the New Deal incumbent, Senator Robert J. Bulkley. Some polite diplomacy will be necessary in Ohio if embarrassments are to be avoided.

Later tomorrow the President will cross into Kentucky, where his political affections will not be so divided. There the candidacy of his Senate leader, "Dear Alben" Barkley, is involved with that of Governor A. B. (Happy) Chandler. In that fight the sympathies of the President are well known. They are with Barkley.

F. D. R. Trek

After Kentucky comes Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Utah, Nevada and California. Today the President added another politically significant speaking engagement to his tour by accepting an invitation to visit Barnesville, Ga., August 11.

The invitation was extended by a delegation of Georgians including Lawrence Camp, federal district attorney at Atlanta and candidate for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate seat now held by Senator George. George, who frequently has opposed the administration, was not in the delegation.

Cahill Blasts 'Air Fables' by Governor

Governor Hurley's radio blast against Republican leaders, whom he accused of blocking his relief measures, today drew sharp rejoinder from Speaker of the House Horace T. Cahill, Republican, who declared the Legislature is "as weary as the public must be with the governor's dilly-dally tactics."

Terming Hurley's attack a "biased effort to make a noise like a flounder," Cahill announced he would reply to the charges tonight at 7:30 in a radio talk, at which time he will "give facts instead of fables" as the governor's efforts to squander his way back into public office.

"The Republican legislators have time and again voted a sound program for relief," Cahill said, "and their efforts have been summarily rejected by the governor. They are still ready to vote for a genuine relief program. 'I am certain the Legislature will not allow the governor, behind a mask of supposed interest in the unemployed, to dip into the public treasury to establish for himself a campaign fund.'"

In his air trade, made after he broke precedent by announcing his candidacy for re-election before prorogation of the legislature, Hurley charged Republicans had balked every relief measure proposed by him during the present session.

Doctor Saves Girl's Sole By Grafting Foot to Thigh

BOULDER, Colo., July 7 (AP)—Dr. Paul R. Farrington reported today the completion of a pedicle skin graft during which 17-year-old Ruth Gleason's right foot was attached to her left thigh by growing skin tissue for 25 days.

A rock crushed Miss Gleason's foot while she was on a hiking trip. It tore all skin tissue from the sole of her foot down to the tendons.

The graft was made to replace the skin. Dr. Farrington said there was every reason "to believe the operation would be successful."

He cut one side of a flap of skin from the thigh and placed this against the sole flesh. The flap, still attached to the thigh, obtained blood circulation necessary to aid the skin graft to "take" on the sole of the foot.

For Carroll
Evidence

Shrouding their mission in secrecy, Maine authorities today called on Massachusetts State police experts for corroborating evidence in their case against former Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll, to be tried August 1 in South Paris, Me., for the murder of Dr. James G. Littlefield.

Sheriff Fernando Francis of Oxford County conferred for four hours with Massachusetts experts, including Lieutenant Joseph T. Walker, state police chemist.

Although Dr. Walker declined to comment on Maine's baffling murders, it was learned that the Maine sheriff brought him the weapon which the prosecution claims was the murder instrument.

Earlier, a hammer had been accepted as the murder weapon on the confession of Paul Dwyer, South Paris schoolboy, now serving life for the crime.

Another bundle brought here was believed to contain clothing dug up in the yard of the Dwyer home.

Dr. Walker admitted the conference with Sheriff Francis lasted well into early hours this morning. He declared, however, information must come from Maine authorities.

"I can't say whether or not I shall go to Maine to testify," he said. "Neither can I reveal what aid Sheriff Francis has asked and what he brought here for examination."

The trip here by the Maine sheriff came immediately after defense counsel and prosecuting officials agreed to postpone Carroll's trial from July 22 to August 1. Both sides said they wished additional time to prepare the case.

At the same time, Defense Attorney Clyde R. Chapman challenged Attorney-General Franz U. Burkett to give a reason why the sixth "confession" of Paul Dwyer had been kept filed away without action for three months.

Chapman said he knew the Dwyer "confession," one of many made by the youth, had been regarded lightly but for some unexplained reason and then suddenly had been dug up to bring an indictment for his client.

Ronan Takes Oath as Judge In High Court

The Governor's Council today unanimously confirmed the appointment of former Assistant Attorney-General James J. Ronan as a justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court.

Justice Ronan was sworn in by Governor Hurley immediately thereafter. Mrs. Ronan and other members of the new justice's family, and friends, witnessed the brief ceremony. The throng was described as the largest that has attended such an occasion during the present administration.

Likewise confirmed by the Governor's Council were reappointments to the Milk Control Board. Reappointments confirmed were those of James O'Brien of Lee, John M. Whouley of Cambridge and Joseph C. Cort of Reading.

The council also confirmed the appointments of Philip J. Philbin of Harvard, Francis P. Fenton of Stoughton, Richard G. Graham of Newton, Edward P. Shaw 3d of Quincy, and Lewis I. Rosenfield of Newton as members of the advisory council of the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Lieutenant Governor Francis E. Kelly blocked a move for the fourth with reappointment of five of the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway. These are Henry J. Smith, Patrick J. Walsh, William P. Joy and Ernest A. Johnson, all of Boston, and Edward E. Whiting of Newton.

A 5 to 4 vote for suspension of the rules so that the reappointments could be confirmed immediately had been taken, and Governor Hurley had declared the motion carried, when Kelly intervened. He pointed out that a two-thirds vote is required to suspend the rules.

Kelly also joined in a resumption of the fight centering around the governor's proposal of the name of Lawrence Crowley, former mayor of Brockton, as probate judge in Plymouth county. Crowley's name has been "tabled" for eight months.

A motion to take it from the table was defeated 5 to 4. Kelly thereupon rose to inform the Governor that, under the rules, he as presiding officer has the right to take the motion from the table if he so desires, without a vote.

Policeman Ousted Over Girl to Fight

LOUISE DYER

GREENFIELD, July 7.—Though he was silent on his future plans, J. Richard Laurie, ousted Greenfield patrolman, was reported today to be preparing an appeal to the district court for reinstatement to the force.

Laurie, who was wounded seriously last year in a gun duel with a paroled Sing Sing convict, was dismissed from the force on order of the Board of Selectmen, who heard charges he was overfriendly with Louise Dyer, 21, daughter of a retired manufacturer.

Accused of conduct unbecoming an officer, Laurie, who is 32 and married, was additionally charged with "parking in a police car and trying to elude police."

The action was initiated by Police Chief William J. O'Connell, who succeeded the late Chief Thomas Manning.

Miss Dyer, who became heiress several months ago to a fortune left her by her grandfather, testified she met Laurie at a night club in South Deerfield and that their friendship lasted for several weeks.

Miss Dyer's father testified Laurie had returned to him $1000 he said his daughter had given the police officer.

Wilbur F. Turner, Boston handwriting expert, testified that a Christmas card signed "Always, X" was in Laurie's handwriting.

Another Cruise Awaits Readers

Another delightful ocean cruise on the S. S. Steel Pier will be offered to readers of the Boston Sunday Advertiser on Monday, July 11, at half the regular price.

The cruise from Boston to Provincetown and return will be available to those who clip the cruise coupon from the Sunday Advertiser on July 10. The fare with the coupon for adults will be one dollar and for children under twelve fifty cents.

The Steel Pier will leave Foster's Wharf (next to Rowe's Wharf) on Monday at ten o'clock in the morning. A stopover at Provincetown for two hours will allow passengers to visit that historic spot.

The Steel Pier will return to Boston at 8 o'clock in the evening.

U. S. Civil Service Quota Filled Here

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Massachusetts is the only state that has exactly filled its U. S. civil service quota, the Civil Service Commission revealed in a report today.

The Bay State is entitled to 1883 civil service positions, all of which are filled. All the other states and territories are either above or below quota.

Island Skeleton Mystery to Hull, Boston Police

Discovery of a human skeleton buried in a lidless coffin on deserted Outer Brewster island at the entrance to Boston Harbor, provided Boston and Hull police with a mystery today.

Shreds of clothing still cling to the bones, accidentally discovered by a Sunday school group led by Ralph Keller of Winthrop. Edward R. Snow of Winthrop, former Harvard football star, reported the find to police.

A quantity of long, dark hair at the bottom of the coffin gave rise to the suspicion the bones might be those of a woman.

Outer Brewster Island has been uninhabited since 1932. Its last inhabitant, at that time, was Freeman De Gault, who went from Point Shirley.

Prior to De Gault, a man named August Reebach, employed as a caretaker on Calhoun Island, lived on Outer Brewster. Reebach also was known as "Gus Johnson."

The only death on Outer Brewster ever recorded was that of a fisherman named Jeffrey, who was drowned shortly after the Civil War. His body was recovered and buried on the island by his widow, records indicate.

Elliot street, Charlestown, paved partly with stone quarried from Outer Brewster in 1843 by a detail of men led by General Benjamin Austin.

The island, far out in the harbor, is infrequently visited, although sometimes made the goal of picnic or "exploring" parties. It was transferred to the city of Boston by the federal government some years ago, but Hull claims police jurisdiction.

10 Boys Perish In 'Fire Drill'

LISBON, Portugal, July 7 (AP)—Ten boys died today when firemen failed to rescue them from a four-story wooden structure set ablaze to permit an exhibition fire drill.

Ten others were injured seriously in the drill at Coimbra, 100 miles north of Lisbon.

The building was soaked with gasoline for the spectacle with boys from 12 to 20 distributed through its rooms.

The drilling brigade went to headquarters 400 yards from the building, to await a prearranged alarm after the fire was started.

Two of the boys died in the flames. Eight were injured fatally in jumping from windows.

Recluse Leaves Me. Town $55,000

LOS ANGELES, July 7 (AP)—Police found the body of Mrs. Ella Thompson, 78-year-old recluse, in her little cottage here.

Beneath her bed they discovered a steel box containing bank books showing deposits of $50,000, with a will providing it was to be used for establishment of a rest home in the town of Greene, Me., for women over 60 years of age.

2 DIE IN VT. CRASH

Commuters to Escape Boost

Boston commuters will not be affected by the 25 per cent rail fare increases authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission, unless additional, special permission to increase commutation fares is granted by the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities.

Buyers of single one-way or round-trip tickets, however, will have to pay the increased rate, even though their travel is not interstate, but lies entirely within the state.

This was the opinion expressed by officials of the Department of Public Utilities today. Members of the commission, however, refused to be quoted officially, pointing out that the matter is one still probably to come before them.

GRANT FARE BOOST

The ICC has granted "permission" to the eastern railroads to increase coach fares, now 2 cents a mile, to 2½ cents a mile. This increase is not mandatory, but "permissive." The roads do not have to increase fares, but may do so if they want to.

Since, however, all of the eastern roads joined in petitioning the ICC for this "permission," it was regarded as highly improbable today that any would fail to take advantage of it, now that it has been granted.

The new rate goes into effect in 10 days. Just what may be done towards increasing commutation rates remains, meanwhile, to be seen.

The Boston & Albany Railroad already has an application for a 20 per cent increase in commutation fares pending before the department of public utilities.

The Boston & Maine Railroad, on the other hand, has announced that, for the time being at least, commutation rates aboard its trains will remain unchanged.

New Haven railroad spokesmen were non-committal. Asked whether the road will ask the department of public utilities for increased commutators' fares, Maurice K. Duggan, spokesman for the trustees said: "There's no more reason today for us to make such a request than there was yesterday. The ICC order has no bearing. Your question is like asking, 'Is it going to stop raining?' Sure, it's going to stop raining sometime, I suppose. But when? There are no present indications."

The ICC-granted increases are expected materially to improve the earnings of New England railroads. Howard S. Palmer, president and trustee of the New Haven Railroad, estimated the 1½ cent increase will mean "more than $2,000,000 a year" increased revenues for his road.

Boston & Maine officials said it will mean an increase of more than $500,000 a year to them, and another $100,000 a year additional to the Maine Central.

Passenger traffic experts said they do not believe the increased fare will cause any appreciable falling off of railway travel.

In financial circles, the rate increase was hailed as good news. The railroads, it was pointed out, are in serious straits that make some such measure for increased revenues imperative.

Police Get Summons in Drowning

preparing to file charges at the State House against Metropolitan District Police Captain Burton A. Murray.

STRUCK ON FACE

According to Cooper, he was struck on the face by Murray in the course of an alleged altercation at Huck's beach after the body of the drowning victim, Donald Newton, 16, of Bowers street, Roxbury, had been brought ashore.

"I was diving for the body when it was recovered by the police boat," Cooper said.

"When I reached the beach, the victim had been placed so his face was in the sand. 'I knew he couldn't be revived like that, so I tried to get through the crowd and help.'"

"I attempted to explain to a police officer that I had received special life saving training in the navy and the coast guard."

"But a big fellow in plain clothes stepped up and hit me on the jaw with his open hand. I learned later he was Captain Murray."

"I would have hit him back, but my wife intervened. 'I believe the boy's life could have been saved if he had been given proper treatment.'"

THE CAPTAIN'S STORY

Captain Murray's version of the happenings at the beach was different. He said:

"Cambridge firemen with an inhalator were working on the victim when this fellow, Cooper, tried to butt in."

"He was making a nuisance of himself and was interfering with firemen and police."

"I didn't hit him. I merely put my hand on his neck, gave him a shove, and told him to get out of the way."

"Objections Cooper and some others made to putting the victim in the police ambulance and taking him to St. Elizabeth's Hospital were unjustified."

"There was an inhalator in the ambulance and efforts at resuscitation were continued on the way to the hospital."

Swedish Yacht Comes on Ship

An 11-ton yacht, the Seabiscuit, was today hoisted off the Swedish freighter Svanholm at Mystic Pier as part of the cargo.

The yacht, valued at $2500 and built like a Gloucester fisherman, is the property of Cornelius Wood, realtor, of Andover. It was built at the Island of Tjorn, Sweden, for 20 years a famous yachting center. It is a crude hull and will be fitted at the Sims yard in Newport.

Thirty men took six hours to haul the Seabiscuit off the liner. The yacht will house seven persons. It will be anchored at Cuttyhunk Island.

Ferry Crashes Ship 2d Successive Day

In the second almost exactly collided at the same spot and similar accident on two successive mornings, the ferryboat Ashburnham and the Nantasket steamboat Allerton were in collision today at Rowe's wharf.

More than 100 passengers were shaken up, and a section of the Ashburnham's rail was smashed. No damage was done the Allerton.

Harbor police said the two vessels came together as the Allerton was tying up at its dock and the ferryboat was entering its slip.

Doctor Denies Mother's Pain Vital to Baby

Many mothers believe that the pain of labor is necessary for the baby to be born. Dr. H. H. Henshaw, of the Massachusetts General Hospital, says that this is not the case.

Dr. Henshaw says that the pain of labor is not necessary for the baby to be born. He says that the pain is only a result of the contraction of the uterus.

Dr. Henshaw says that the pain of labor is not necessary for the baby to be born. He says that the pain is only a result of the contraction of the uterus.

There is no threat to the life of an infant if a drug is used to ease the mother. The doctor, in my opinion, is indulging in a bit of nice exaggeration. The drug has been used at City Hospital without disastrous effects. Many mothers are temperamentally unsuited to labor pains, and to them the drug becomes a boon. It provides the mother with complete relaxation, loss of consciousness, and enables us to bring the child into the world without danger.

Jury to Probe 'Cement' Death

A special session of the Hampden County grand jury will convene next Tuesday morning in Springfield to probe the death of a woman who died after drinking cement. The woman, who was 40 years old, was found dead in her home in Springfield. The grand jury will hear evidence from the family and the police.

last year, the company's earnings rose 28.45 per cent to $1.04 per share. American Iron & Steel Institute estimates that today's price for the average 60 per cent iron ore pellet is about $1.18 to $1.20 a ton, up from $0.90 a ton last year. The company's production of iron ore pellets was 4,084,000 tons, or 14.43 per cent higher, primarily due to the new 1,000-ton-per-hour blast furnace which started operating in July. The company's earnings for the year ended in 1980 were $1.15 per share, up from $0.90 a share in 1979.

Conservative interests are content to hug the sidelines now in view of the extent of the rally as well as a belief prices have out-run business and trade gains.

If active long positions are taken we find them mostly confined to backward groups such as utilities or in one or two instances to specialties thought to be tardy in joining the move.

150 Pupils Flee School Blaze

More than 150 pupils were crowded into safety of cars before flames of smoke spread, were the scene of the burning of the Lawrence School, Lawrence, Mass., today. The school, situated on W. Main street, was estimated at $100,000. The fire broke out at 10:30 a. m. and the pupils were taken to the Lawrence High School.

Students reported that the fire broke out in the school building. The fire was caused by a gas leak in the kitchen. The fire was extinguished by the Lawrence Fire Department. The school was closed for several days.

Loyal Unto Death

Dog Can't Stand Parting

CLEVELAND, July 7 (AP)—Eight months ago a little mongrel dog known as Blackie made friends with Postman Frank Vacha and accompanied him on his route every day thereafter.

Recently Vacha went on a ten-day vacation. Returning yesterday he learned his faithful friend, owned by Alex Neidel, a dry cleaner on his route, had waited nine days, perplexed and upset when the postman did not show up.

The dog refused food all the while and died the day before Vacha returned.

Neidel explained some said the dog died from sleeping at his station by the mail box in all kinds of weather rather than in his kennel, and some believed the dog died of self-inflicted starvation. But Neidel said everyone who knows the devotion of a mongrel knows Blackie died of a broken heart.

correspondent asked him definitely to clear up once and for all all the sensational stories that he was in love with Barbara and planning to marry her.

Prince Frederick has denied to the press all reports in which he is reported to be in love with or planning to marry Barbara.

HE KNOWS BARBARA

"Your Royal Highness," I said, "I want to inform you most specifically that it is now being openly stated you are the 'Gentleman in London' referred to in the Haugwitz-Reventlow case, and the man who challenged the count to a duel."

"How can they say things about me?" The prince's voice came over the 'phone in puzzled anger. "I have nothing to do with them. It is only ridiculous talk. I hardly know the count and countess."

"But you have met the countess?" I pressed.

"That is true," Frederick agreed.

"But are you anything more than friends with her?"

"I am just a friend," the prince replied emphatically. "I only met the count and countess three or four times. Both of them were very kind to me. I have nothing against the count. He was very polite to me when I met him in Paris. But I hardly know him."

NEVER WROTE TO BABS

"Have I your authority also to deny you are the person who wrote a letter to the countess, which was mentioned in the Bow street hearing as having been stolen from the countess by the count?" I inquired.

"Absolutely!" said the prince. "I have never written any letter to the countess. I give you my word absolutely on that."

"I am very unhappy to know that my name has been mixed up in this thing."

Then I repeated: "You authorize me to say that you were friendly with this lady, but there is not an atom of truth in any statement which might attempt to link you in any way with the court action now in progress?"

"That is absolutely correct," affirmed the prince.

"Some ridiculous people apparently have thought I might mar-ter from the count," Frederick replied. "It was all a mistake by the press, which printed such a ridiculous statement."

"I had nothing to do with this case whatever. I cannot emphasize that strongly enough, and I would be very happy if you would deny these ridiculous stories with my full authority."

He then turned to the countess and said: "I am very sorry that this case has been brought up. I am sure you will understand my position."

French Net Star Denies He Is Babs' 'Gentleman'

PARIS, July 7 (AP)—Hugues Brunson, French tennis star, today denied he was the "gentleman in London" mentioned in the Haugwitz-Reventlow case. Brunson, 28, who came fourth in the French tennis tour, once threatened to attack people who have used his name with the former Barbara Hutton.

"There has been a mistake from the beginning," Brunson said.

"While I was in London, playing in the Wimbledon championships, several people asked me whether or not I had lunch with the countess."

"I told them the truth—which is that I have never had the privilege of meeting the lady at any time, nor have I ever met her husband or any member of her family."

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
I've been in love with you for a long time, ever since we started going together, and I'm a good job I could have done because I had to pay off a debt. I never like to owe anyone money so I let the girl I love. I was a piker. But now that money is paid I have lost my soul and she seems disappointed with me. If I had a good girl I'd like to marry now. Sometimes you and me I don't make sense.

Whatever the girl may be,
 your introduction of you to her will do but rather harm to your money on expense.

Agawam Race for { Yanks Only Need
Basket Fund { Joe Louis

By JACK CONWAY

MR. BOSTON had his traveling bag and portable typewriter with him when he arrived in the Sporting Department today.

Mr. Boston

"Why, the vacation outfit?" I asked. "Didn't you just come back from the Louis Schmeling fight?"

Mr. Boston casually lit a cigar, and asked if "Smoking's" entries for Agawam had arrived in the States.

"I have a feeling," said the veteran, "that I am going to come up with a couple of winners at Agawam tomorrow. This is why I have the traveling scene."

"Dave Wilson and myself are going to Agawam to attend the horsemen's dinner tonight, and we're going to remain over at Dan Cornett's track for the running of the Boston Evening American's Christmas Basket Fund race to—"

I mentioned that Agawam for several years has made a practice of staging a special Christmas Basket Fund race.

"It is a grand idea," declared Mr. Boston, "and the poor and unfortunate are the real winners."

"General Manager Eddie Brennan and Ty Shea have come up with a nine race program for tomorrow, and it should be a banner day."

"In addition to the Christmas Basket Fund race, there will be a telephoto race, and seven other attractive offerings."

I told Mr. Boston that Col. Dave Frothingham, head of the New York racing circuit, had offered a purse of $150,000 and that the track would have $50,000.

"As if track owners cared anything about money," remarked Mr. Boston as he suggested that we go out and get a scotch and soda as reinforcements for his trip to Agawam.

I told Mr. Boston that I had heard that he had his favorite trifling bet on the horse race, and that he was a very shrewd man.

"As long as you don't order an ice cream soda you can come with me," asserted Mr. Boston. "You can also be of assistance by carrying my bags to my car. In return, I'll send you and 'Yankee' Happy Robinson a few hot tips from the Agawam front. They will at least be better than some of the phoney tips Happy has been giving to the boys lately."

Yankees-Sox Should Furnish Fireworks

MR. BOSTON took time out to discuss the series between the Yankees and Red Sox for tomorrow.

"My only regret in hopping to Agawam," asserted Mr. Boston, "is that I won't be on the firing line when the Red Sox and Yankees clash at Fenway Park tomorrow. All Stars baseball games are all right, even with a National League victory, but I get my greatest thrill out of baseball when two top teams clash in what you experts like to call a crucial series."

"Eddie Collins should put on a three-round bout between Joe Cronin and Jake Powell as an added attraction. In a two-man fight, I would wager my winning golf clubs on Cronin. The last time Cronin took on Powell he was hit by two punches at the entire Yankee team. If Joe Louis had been in New York at the time, I suppose the Yankees also would have enlisted the aid of the champion as to make sure they could beat the lone Cronin."

"Ball players as a class are very poor fighters. Where most boxers only ask a friendly referee and two outside judges when they go into action the Yankees insist upon a 21 man offense with the pretense of aiding upon the active force for assistance in their single opponent gets too rough."

I told Mr. Boston that I had heard that he had his favorite trifling bet on the horse race, and that he was a very shrewd man.

"That's what you experts said in the South, and then look what happened," asserted the veteran. "For a time it didn't appear as if the Yankees would be able to beat the dust out of their uniforms let alone win the American League pennant."

"There were stories that the players didn't like Joe DiMaggio on account of his height, and they thought it was bad that Joe wasn't talking to himself out in mention holding any conversation with the other members of his ball club. Then the team got clicking."

Yankees Have All-round Power

WHILE MR. BOSTON drank his scotch and soda, I told him I thought the Yankees possessed all-round power.

"The Yankees can hit, have good pitching, and fine fielding strength," I told Mr. Boston.

"All they need is Joe Louis and then they could win a fist fight with only one man representing them," said Mr. Boston.

I told Mr. Boston that I had heard that he had his favorite trifling bet on the horse race, and that he was a very shrewd man.

"Have it your own way," replied Mr. Boston, "but I would trade the Yankees and the Red Sox for some tough guy, preferably an Irishman, who could knock out Joe Louis."

"Why do you want to get somebody who can flatten the champion?" I demanded.

"Why did men risk their lives in the gold rush?" asked Mr. Boston. "Joe Louis is a human gold mine, and the white heavy-weight who knocks him for a loop will make more money than the New Deal can spend in a year."

Mr. Boston was still talking about the money that could be earned with a new heavyweight sensation when Dave Wilson dropped in, and suggested it was time to start wheeling towards Agawam.

Blame Watered Track For Lawrin's Injury

Dauber Sold On Coast For $40,000

INGLEWOOD, Cal., July 7 (AP)—Dauber, ailing Preskunas winner, was reported sold for $40,000 today while his arch rival, Lawrin, Kentucky Derby champion, joined him on the shelf.

Lawrin, winner of last week's high stakes, pulled up yesterday with what Trainer Ben Jones described as the same kind of leg injury that befell Dauber. He blamed the frequent watering of the track for the mishaps.

Jones won't be sure until possibly tomorrow how long Lawrin will be out of competition, but offered to bet "one thousand to one" that his big colt would not go near the Hollywood $50,000 gold cup handicap July 15, much less the Hollywood $15,000 Derby this Saturday.

Although a bowed tendon forced Dauber out of the $50,000 3-year-old stakes at Hollywood Park last week, E. T. Fogelson, Texas oil man, has agreed to pay William C. duPont's Foxcatcher Farm $40,000 for the chestnut stallion, it was learned.

Fogelson plans to keep Dauber inactive for at least three months, then train him slowly for the winter season at Santa Anita, with its $100,000 handicaps.

Bowser Cuts Title Go Prices

Promoter Paul Bowser has slashed admission prices for his world heavyweight wrestling championship battle between Steve (Crusher) Casey, the titleholder, and Richard Shikat, German challenger, at Fenway Park on Tuesday night, July 12.

A top price of $2.50 will be charged, whereas other world heavyweight championship battles never have been lower than $3.50 tops. Other prices will be $1.50, $1.15 and 55 cents.

"I believe it's the first time in the history of wrestling that such an important championship battle has been staged at such small prices," Promoter Bowser explained. "However, I reduced the ante because of the unlimited seating capacity at Fenway Park. I am going to depend on a huge volume of business. Nearly everybody will be able to afford to see this attraction."

BERGER CLICKING

Wally Berger began clicking as soon as he left the Polo Grounds to join the Reds.

Cincinnati is—and always was—a red-hot baseball town when the Reds are winning. When the club galloped off with the bunting bag in 1919, a rabid fan in Cynthia, Ky., walked 19 miles every day to learn the score.

George Mays, former Florida football star, will fill in for Jeff D. McCord as director of athletics at Emory University while McCord takes a year's leave of absence. Healthy sign: The way the Illinois Boxing Commission sat down on Messrs. Kearns, Adamick, Trammell, Lavan, et al.

Ohioans predict Joe Scott, Western Reserve University's one-man track team, will be the deathblow star of the next Olympic team. His specialties are the pole vault and low hurdles, but he looks like a winner in almost any event. They say if he wasn't out there, Western Reserve wouldn't have a track team.

Lopez Goes On Road With Bees

The Bees leave town today on an extended trip of 2½ weeks.

Tomorrow, the fifth place Stengelmans open a series with the first place Giants at the Polo Grounds, and from there move on to make their third swing of the western cities.

This time Catcher Al Lopez will accompany the team. While he is still on the voluntary retired list, Manager Stengel consented to him accompanying his mates at Lopez' suggestion that he would round into form quicker if he were given the chance to work out daily.

Lopez' injured thumb is still in bad condition, but it is improving, and he feels that he will be ready to return to active duty when his time is officially up.

The Bees are 10½ games away from first place, two and one half out of the first division, as they leave for their foreign invasion.

Their chances of finishing in the first four depend on their showing on this road trip.

Deb Garms, injured third baseman and leading team hitter, is going along with the team and should be back in the lineup shortly.

Manager Casey Stengel, Tony Cuccinello and Jim Turner, neither of the latter getting a crack at playing in the All-Star game, will pick their teammates up in New York this evening.

of Johnny Allen's best curves and hit the center field wall, 387 feet away, on the fly.

The ball ricocheted far back into the field, fully pursued by Joe DiMaggio.

On finished up on third base and scored immediately when Ernie Lombardi, eagle-beaked Cincinnati catcher, biffed a single to left.

The Americans collapsed completely in the seventh. They started the offensive end of the inning as if they were going to win the game, for it was only 2-0 at the time.

Instead of sending Carl Hubbell in to relieve Leo, Terry used Mace Brown. Jimmy Fox greeted him with a single off Leo Durocher's glove.

Dimag forced Jimmy, and then with two gone, and after Dimag scored second, Joe Cronin walked and Gettling bent out an infield hit—filling the bases.

Joe McCarthy, the pilot of the Americans, sent up Rudy York of the Tigers to bat for Allen. Brown struck him out, after the count had gone to three balls and two strikes.

WHERE'S GEHRINGER?

It was too much of a disappointment, or something, because in the last half of the same seventh the Americans added two more errors to their total.

Frank McCormick of the Reds welcomed Lefty Grove in the game with a single to center. Terry called for a bunt from Durocher. Leo dumped the ball down the third base line.

Jimmy Fox came in, grabbed the ball, hesitated when he saw that Charley Gringer was pretty slow in getting over to cover first base, then let it go anyway.

The ball went into right field, where Di Maggio picked it up and—in a slightly mad moment—threw it over Dickey's head and darn near into the grandstand.

Two runs scored, and thus three of the four National League runs were unearned, and though Grove proceeded to strike out Brown, Heck and Herman—in succession—the game no longer was a contest.

The game's "gate" was $38,469, about $20,000 of which will go into the fund to care for down and out ball players.

Show Courage

TORONTO, July 7 (Canadian Press)—Without money to ship a newly-purchased shell from Hamilton, Ont., to Toronto, four university at Toronto youths towed the shell home—43 miles over Lake Ontario. They arrived early today, covering the distance in a little more than seven hours.

Dave Soper, university rowing coach, purchased the second-hand shell from the Hamilton Leanders Club, Ted Nokes, Wes Hickey, George Peters and Keith Duckworth left Hamilton at 6 p. m. and arrived at the Argonaut Rowing Club here at 1:10 p. m.

"Gosh, this place looks good," Nokes said as they nosed the slender shell alongside the rowing club dock.

Longwood Gets Wood And Riggs

Promises that the return of the Davis Cup to this country would assure bigger and better Longwood Bowl tournaments were not idle talk.

The 46th tournament which will start at Longwood Cricket Club on Monday, July 18, will have a brilliant field, if early entries are indication of those to follow.

Sydney Wood, former Davis Cup player, and a man who has ranked in the first 10 no less than six times, is the foremost entry in the Bowl thus far, although Bobby Riggs is expected to compete.

Wood is attempting a comeback after two years devoted largely to business, and it is not likely to be a futile gesture, for he is only 25 years old and he has the foundation of one of the finest games in the country.

Only lack of endurance prevented him from beating Frank Parker in the nationals last year.

Frank Kovacs, young Californian who came into prominence during the Florida winter season, has entered.

In the South he was likened to Bill Tilden because of his height, style of game and temperament, not because of the manner in which he polished off opponents.

Gardner Mulley of Miami, a much improved player as his five-set match with Bobby Riggs in the national clay courts championship final recently would indicate, has entered the Bowl tournament. He will pair in the doubles with George Toley, who was here last year.

From Chicago will come the leading players of the midwest, the Murphy twins, William and Chester, and John Shostrum.

Dorothy May Bundy, Theodosia Smith, Patricia Henry and Dorothy Workman are Californians who will play in the women's tournament during the Bowl week at Longwood.

A 'King's Ransom' Couldn't Purchase This Flock

THOUGH these American Leaguers, as lined up in the dugout before the hectic All-Star game at Cincinnati yesterday, represent a king's ransom in cash, they played a lot differently than the money invested in the folk represent. Whether it was the Reds' park, that few had ever played in before, or what, has close followers of baseball guessing.

Some 28,000 rabid fans saw above group of players upset the prediction made recently that the National representatives were a bunch of minor leaguers. The boys from the National Loop vanquish their opponents, 4 to 1, in one of the best contests yet put on by any squad representing the Ford Frick circuit.

'Love Babs? No!'

Says Prince

By CHARLES A. SMITH

(Copyright, 1938)

LONDON, July 7—With the most emphatic denial: "I am not the 'gentleman in London,'" Prince Frederick of Prussia today deepened the mystery of the identity of the man whom Count Haugwitz-Reventlow allegedly wanted to "shoot like a dog." The 26-year-old prince, grandson of the former Kaiser Wilhelm, confirmed in an exclusive interview with International News Service that he was acquainted with Countess Barbara. But: "I am not in love with Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow!" he said.

Dad Sues—Little Jane Lawlor, whose father, John K. Lawlor, is suing his parents-in-law for $40,000, charging alienation of his wife's affections. The defendants are George W. Bailey, noted radio expert, and Mrs. Alice Cooper Bailey, prominent writer of children's books.

Faces Trial In Row Over Drowning

BULLETIN

Joseph Lee, Boston school committee member and chairman of the Massachusetts committee to further outdoor recreation, said today he would cite the Huck's beach drowning clash to Governor Hurley as an instance of "inefficiency" of Metropolitan district police.

First move was made by police today in the clash which followed the drowning of a Roxbury boy at Huck's beach, Brighton.

At request of Metropolitan District Police Officer Thomas W. J. Tevlin, the clerk of Brighton district court issued a complaint charging Henry Cooper, 34, of School street, Everett, with assault and battery.

Cooper must answer the complaint in Brighton district court on July 14.

Meantime, Cooper said he was he said.

"Nor have I ever challenged Count Haugwitz-Reventlow to a duel.

"I authorize you to deny that I am linked in any way to this case."

The prince, over the telephone from South Wales, said he was "very annoyed" that society gossips connected him with the sensational legal battle between the count and countess, in which the American-born heiress accused her Danish nobleman husband with threatening to harm her and kill a "gentleman in London."

Putting a series of blunt questions squarely to the prince, this

Sellers Cash In As Rails Rise

NEW YORK, July 7 (AP)—Traders who boarded the speculative boat early for a fast ride to profits cashed in heavily today on Wall Street's "sunshine" bull market, taking advantage of an early stampede to buy rail shares.

Under cover of the boom in rails, speculators who had loaded up on leading industrial shares at the outset of the spectacular upswing last month handed them out to new buyers, cutting down prices of pivotal shares for loans ranging to more than $2.
